MAMMOTH CROWD ATTENDS PRIME SOCIAL EVENT OF SEASON

The junior promenade held Friday night in the Ladies' Gymnasium was one of the smartest events ever held at Young University. The art motif of deep sea fish, was effectively carried out through the food, the decorations were elaborate and well arranged, transforming the gym almost into a myriad of deep sea fishes and unusual colors. Over two hundred couples enjoyed the evening of dancing to the music of Verdi, Bruch's, Columbia.

The entire affair from start to finish was carried out in a distinctive fashion. Favors were presented to all who attended, in the form of a combination card and coin case, each in brown leather with the color of the B. Y. U. The refreshments, carefully carried out to the last motif. Deep sea fish of green and orange in cream were served in a silver by a maid serving girls. Old King Neptune presided over the occasion from his coral throne, and it was quite the host that he made, giving out the whole affair in a most pleasant evening.

WHO IS A FRIEND

Who is a friend? I will tell you. He is the person with whom you dare to be yourself. Your soul can go naked with him. He means to ask of you to put on nothing, only to be what you are. He does not want you to be better or worse. When you are with him you feel as a prisoner feels who has been declared innocent. You do not have to be on your guard. You can say what you think, so long as it is genuinely you. He understands those contradictions in your nature that lead others to misjudge you. With him you breathe free. You can savor your little vanities and envies and hates and vicious sparks, your meanness and absurdities, and in opening them up to him they are lost, dissolved on the ocean of his loyalty. He understands. You do not have to be careful. You can abuse him. It makes no matter. He likes you. He is like fire that purges all that is in you. He is like water that cleanses all that you are. He is like you that warms you to the bone. He understands you. You can creep with him, laugh with him, play with him. Through and underneath it all he sees, knows and loves you. A friend! Repeat it, one with whom you dare to be yourself and whom you can trust—knows.

Real friends, like good books, are rare.
And should be cherished with much care.

BALANCED CRANKS

Baseball players know that a top-sided ball spoils the game, top-sided fruit does not sell well, and a top-sided individual looks the worst of the lot. Why? Because he's off balance, and balance is one of the fundamental necessities in human life.

Notice the shape of a crank. Taken by itself, the crank is always out of balance. Notice anyone who is reputed to be a "crank" on one or more subjects. You'll quickly see, if your viewpoint is impersonal, that he is out of balance.

However, there's a trick to every stunt, and we find that though cranks are probably the most unbalanced things in the world, they are also among the most necessary. The world owes much to such men as Edison, Ford, Morgan, Firestone and others, yet in one sense these very men are unbalanced, being the world's biggest cranks in their chosen fields. It has been said by a man of great insight, "Show me the world's greatest crank and I'll show you the world's most successful man."

"Why is it then," you ask, "that the most successful men are unbalanced and yet people are urged to live balanced lives?"

The answer is simple. The world has room for just about so many unbalanced parts, but to increase the number would be to increase greatly the vibration of society—and vibration is the destroyer of efficiency in any machine.

It follows then, that if you find yourself inclined to be a crank, you'd better make sure that you are potentially big enough so that the world will be willing to overlook your lack of balance in regard for the good contributions you make.

Very few of us are potential Edison or Morgans or Firestones, and for that reason, life will run much smoother for most of us if we hand a few bits of general knowledge onto our make-up in order to offset the tendency we have to become cranks or specialists to too great an extent.

MISPLACED TRIBUTE

In the past our column "Our Hand of Blame" has been an open forum affair, wherein any member of the student body could voice an opinion. This column has been conducted with the idea of voicing well founded opinions on campus affairs. The material submitted has not been censored because of opinion. The unfortunate thing is that its purpose has been misunderstood by some who take it as a medium of settling personal grudges. This column should be used to voice only well founded criticism.

There appeared in this column some time ago, an article entitled "What Price Glory?" wherein our Cougar Quartet and its director were accused of "deceptive publicity" and dishonesty.

It appears as though the writer of this article was woefully in want of the facts, because the "deceptive" publicity referred to was a simple and unavoidable mistake.

We regret very much that such an article ever found its way into print, for it was of a damaging nature. To the writer we say, "Know whereof you speak." To the injured parties we apologize.

COUGARS CINCH STATE FLAG AS UTES FALL BEFORE ATTACK

Giving the "Y" a cinch on the state championship the Aggies came up from the cellar and beat the University of Utah five in two games at Logan last Friday and Saturday. The big thing in both contests was that the Logans used the same much discussed system for breaking Utah's famous live-and-let-live defense as did the Montana Bobcats and the Young Cougars—that of stalling.

The Utes worked valiantly both nights but were very much unable to bring their score up to even last night with the angry Farmers. Worthington and Harro for the Aggies, along with the veterans Wade played the best ball for the winning coup, while Carl Davis and the two Ute players were probably the outstanding performers for the Salt Lake team.

WILGATS DROP HARD GAME TO BULLDOGS

Coach Joe Boy's fighting Wilgats of the Y. T. S. gave the Young High Bulldogs a real scare. Friday night when they took and held the lead went into the third quarter of the final "Y" vs. Provo box contest.

The Wilgats set a fast pace from the first whistle, which succeeded in carrying the Bulldogs off their feet. The great work of Robinson and Bulldog, Bullock, etc., enabled the Provo high quite to recover from the fray on the long end of a 41 to 30 score.

Alvy Smith, mainstay for the Salt Lake high was one of the best, scoring 13 points. The entire Wilcat team played great ball throughout the game only to have victory snatched from them in the last few minutes of play.

Prof. Nelson Offers Piano Normal Course

During the spring quarter Professor Elmer E. Nelson will give a course in Piano Pedagogy, which will be open to students above the intermediate grades in piano playing. Many grade teachers or normal students are far enough advanced in their piano work that if they were prepared from the pedagogical standpoint they could take a class of private piano pupils in connection with their other teaching. Every year there are requests for just such teachers and in some instances better school positions are offered the teacher who can supply and meet the need.

Y NECK TWISTERS TO INVAD INDIAN CAMP THURSDAY

Eight B. Y. U. grapplers will invade the strong hold of the Utes in Salt Lake City, Thursday night for a dual mat meet. The Redskins have already defeated the A. C. matmen to the tune of 19 to 8. If they can defeat the "Y" state lancers will rest on their laurels. Coach "Toke" Ball and Vernon Moritt, assistant, have tentatively decided upon the following line: 116 pounds, Carl Webb; 125 pound, R. C. Clark; 135 pounds, London Cropper; 145 pounds, Mile Mondy; 159 pounds, "Red" Ball; 175 pounds, Henry Simmons; heavyweight, Pearl Pollock.

A new weight has been added to the above list, Ben Goe will represent the "Y" in the 168 pound class.

These men were selected after a round robin competition which followed the inter-social unit tournament. Craft, 125 pounds; Hill, 116 pounds; Tipetto, 159 pounds; and Beck, 145 pounds, are all suffering from injuries at present and may break into the lineup for the next dual meet.

Besides these men, Basinger and Vergara, 158 pound artists are forcing Ball and Goe to the limit to keep their tentative positions.

"Jim claims he's coming back to teach."

"He always said he'd take a vacation after graduation."

"Speed? Say, that car can't be stopped on the hills."

"Mine was that way too, before I and the brakes fixed."

"Gifford, you'd better look me up. I'll hit my my over the head with a club."

"Did you kill her?"

"Don't think so. Think, why I want to be locked up."

Arlene Harris New Alumni Representative

Arlene Harris was last week elected class representative on the alumni council. This place of having the outgoing class represented on the alumni board was adopted last year, and makes of the representative a liaison office between the alumni and the institution. Many valuable suggestions for alumni support are always forthcoming from the executive committee. Miss Harris represents a graduating class of approximately 175.

It is interesting to know that at the 1928 commencement, Miss Harris mother, Ethel Spillbury Harris, 79, wife of President Harris, was elected to the alumni board, so the president's family belongs to the official family both in undergraduate and alumni matters.

COLORADO "U" LEADS EASTERNERS

In all probability Colorado University basketball team will be the victors in the Rocky Mountain Conference. The Colorado University team has won more games last weekend and needs but one more victory to clinch the title. Its next game will be with the Colorado Varsity, first holders of the cellular title, and this should not be a very big obstacle to the Boulder quiet its reach for the championship.

Since Montana State has swept all opposition on this side of the Rockies and has set up an average scoring record not approached by any team of the eastern division, it appears that the Colorado entry's chance to down the Bozeman Cats is to stop their scoring spree. The only team that has checked the scoring of the Golden five to any appreciable extent is the University of Utah five.

Utah University lost three pre-season games to Wyoming University of the eastern division, and Wyoming is no closer than three steps to the top of the eastern division standing. This is the closest that can be approached to anything like dope, and it is not.

The only thing that can be said on the possible outcome of the championship series is that the Colorado boys will have to play superlative ball if they hope to win a game from the Bozeman Bulldogs.

Roy L. Stone Is Latest Life Member Addition

Roy L. Stone, 17, manager of Stone's chain stores, with headquarters at Portland, Oregon, is the newest addition to the life membership ranks.

The rise of Roy Stone, still in his teens, to the position of general manager of a rapidly developing chain of retail business enterprises, made in quantities aggregating staggering figures, is a story that has been told in a Horatio Alger story. From a high school graduate at R. Y. U. in 1917, through a short war period, up through clerkships with well-known chain stores, he has steadily read up on an organization of real moment is an accomplishment boys find dream of. Associated with him are several other Y. U. alumni: Lester E. Henrie, Charles Stone, Carlyle Hoyle and James Gillespie, all in important executive positions.

In addition to Stone's life membership, the following were made simultaneous alumni contributors during the past few days:

BEAUX ARTS WINS INTRAMURAL HOOP TITLE 51-8

Clayton with Beasle, Iverson, athlete manager in charge, and Miss Wilms, physical education director.

Provision to the championship title of the Bruins was reflected in the Varsity team, 20 to 6 in a comparatively fast game, but which was won after being shadowed by the following points. Edna Dixon for the winners was the point guard, and the following points to her credit: Lucille LaRue, guard for the losers was outstanding.

During the game, the spectators were entertained by the freeman gymnasium who had the lowest points in the autumn quarter. The refreshment consisted of punch and more punch, much to the delight of the male students in particular.

The title game was exceptionally fast and interesting, some very fine work being done by both sides. For the victors, Lily Skousen and Beasle Iverson, center, capt. 31 and 30 points respectively. Verda Hansen, jumping center, and Miss Hansen, guard, was outstanding. Lorena Clayton, Decca Semi P. captain, showed an ability to care counters when the ball was gotten to her, but being guarded very closely she was at a disadvantage. Good team work was displayed by both teams, the champions' board of ball being far superior to any other played this season that the victory was well earned.

movie is far more interesting. Most of them get in by hard work. Men do extra work for a number of months. Luten and Rogers put through the film and the picture was made.

Dr. Arlen tried for five long years to fight the film by the way he tried to. He had no one to inspire him and even stuck with his old party and with relatives advised against it.

William Austin was a well-known actor on the stage, as was George Harnett before he came under the Paramount banner. Lane Chandler, a bus in Yellowstone and was discovered when a motion picture director was making a picture there.

First Thompson, the riding actor, who played the part of "Jesse James," worked his way into motion pictures through his all-around athletic ability and especially his riding. In 1916 and '17 he was awarded the A. U. title of the best all-around athlete in the country.

The case of William Rogers and his sudden rise to motion picture fame is a typical case of men who have become motion picture actors without the self asserted "kick." We like to write about people who are one of the most charming characters we have ever met. It is regarded as one of the most promising young actors today and will work in "Kings," "Get Your Man," and Anne Nichols. After "Frank Brown" has stamped him as a star.
